WINDER AMUSEMENTS.

It is an easy thing to establish, either in coantry or city neighborhoods, the reading club. Twen's his young men and women of conger cal tastes, habits, and social belongings can cast ly meet in one another's houses, once during the same, every week, through five of six months of the same. With a most time them to the year. With a small find they can buy books, and, over these, read aloud by one and mother of their number, they can spend an hour and a half most pleasantly and promably. They will find in these books topics of conversation for the remainder of the time they spend together. If they can illuminate the e-ening with music, all the better. Whatever accomplishments may be in the procession of different members of the club may be drawn upon to give variety to the interest of the occasion. This is entirely practicable, everywhere. It smore profitable than amateur theatricals, and less exhaustive of time and energy. It can be a ited with almost any lilerary object. The "Shakespeare Chib" is nothing but a reading club, devoted to the study of a single author; and Shakespeare may well engage a chib for a single Winter. Such a club would califyate the art of good reading, which is one of the best and most useful of all accomdishments. It would custivate thought, imagination, taste. In brief, the whole tendency of the reading club is toward culture—the one thing, notwithstanding all our educational vantages, the most deph rably lacking in the average American man and woman.—Dr. Holland in Arthree's for Deember.

Among the excitements on Tuesday was a foot race between Mr. Miliare Stone, of the Hook and Lander Company, and Mr. Irving of take City. The race was for 100 years, y $100.00 a side. Mr. Stone was the winner y about four cet. On next Tocsday another race will take place. Mr. Stone to run against time, 1,000 feet in orty seconds; some o'the Zook and adder boys me cing Nr. Stone, and members of the Centra City Fire Company risking their money against him. We understand t se staves are 3250.00 a side.

There will be a grant shooting-match here on Christmas Day. Particulars next week.

IMPORTANT TO SEED RAISERS. THE CUCHARAS COAT FIELD,

Some wacks since, we called attention to the fact that Mr. A exancer .. Relyes, an extensive sheep raises and dealer proposed trying a new experiment in connection with sheep and wool growing in Co orado. It is well known that may wool sheep brought from the States to this Perritory, have not, as a genera thing, with hold the exposure of Winter as well as Mexican or native locks. Mr. Relyea, who had had extensive experience in sheep raising. both in the East and on the Pacific Coast, believed that this was owing to the fact that the slicep brought from the States were flocks which had been fed and housed during the Winter, and that they were suddenly transported here here during the Summer, by your and easy travel of a few mi es each day, a lowing thorn then during the Summer mont's, Mr. Relyca, for this experiment gathered together a large flock of fine heavy wool sheep in Missonri, which has never been fed or housed. He got his herd together early last June and drising them slowly over the plains, stopping some time for several days where there was good grass and water, reach d his ranch in the vicinty of Denger in November, thus being nearly six months in the oute. When he reached here his sheep werd all strong and well, and in better could firm every way than when he started West in lietter condition in fact than they would have been had they been grazed at home To day the sleep are flourishing far beyond his expectations and Mr. Relyea has the satisfaction of knowing that his great undertaking has now-orl endirely success of. These sheep will be sold and the enterprising owner will bring across the plains a much larger herd next Summer. Mr. Relyea is at the American, where sheep men can learn further particulars than contained in the above statement. Denser Tribune.

The fact that the Denver and Rio Grande says the Demer Time, is an indication that, at least in the opinion of the com many, these coal fick s are of great value. We have soked the matter up, and from various sources, the most important of which is he advance sheet of Prof. Gardner's report, we obtain many interesting tems. The existence of what is known among metallurgists, as kidney ore in immense quantities in Southern Colorado, has rendered it extremely important tha coal should be found. within a reasonable dis ance, possessing the properties necessary for the smelting of iron; and and that they were suddenly transported here by tail, and turned but before they were acclimated. He conceives the idea of driving sheep coal should be found rear them. Accordingly prospecting for con disclosed the fact that it existed in argequantities in the Cucharas valley, to rest and graze on the way, thus acclimating a short distance above Walsenburg. There are them gradually and at the same time subsisting in at from nineteen to twenty feet of workable coal, the upper scan of which is about two hundred feet above the best of the river. Under lying this vast deposit is a formation of sand tone, forming a flow two hundred and fifty feet below the surface. Fifty feet above this floor is a bed of coal three feet and six imbes thick; they about the ty-to-forty feet higher, a second bed, seven fee, and cleven inches; then eighty to one bundred feet higher a third, with inches of coal; and tigh after an intervening ten feet of coaly shale a fifth, with from two to two and a half feet of coal. The dip of the strata is such that all of these beds can be easily reached. A staft thirty four and availf feet deep has been opened into the larges/de-posit—the second described above. Coal from the fiest, second and fourth beds was brought to this city, and tested be Prof. Mallett's reveniera tory furnace. The ore upon which the coal was tested were to be roasted, requiring to very great heat, but in a very short time the drafts had to be closed to prevent the whole mass from being melted. Mr. Maxey tested is value for the purposes of the forge. After the the was well started, a rinch and a quarter bar of fron was placed in the fire and withdrawn in four and a half minutes. The bar was at white. heat, and drops of third iron were falling from it. The coal was also coked with satisfactory results. The value of these deposits can hardly be over estimated. Besides being the nearest to San man, where large quantities of coul will shortly be used, it i, without exception, the best coal in the westen half of the continent, and upon being thereughly opened, and upon the completion of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa be Railroad, with undoubtedly to dage, to a great extent, the cool of the Mississippland Missouri Valleys, ever in Kansas and Nebras

Sixty in les from Del Norte we came upon quaint little old Fort Garland, which for years has player its part thward inspiring notions of reverence and peace in the hearts of the Indians of that southwestern country. It was founded in 1858, when old host Massachusetts, seven miles distant, was alandoned. The buildings embracing officers, quarters, barracks for two companies, store houses, hospital, etc.- are constructed of adobe and grout, and their appear ance is ancient enough to easily lead one back in fascy to ages long since buried. A mile or two below the fort one ranchman has this year but 400 tons of hay, which will be used in lling a government contract. Settlers are firm in the belief that the Denver and Aio Grande Railway wil soon be carrier across the mosustains in the vicinity, and find as its first terminal point Fort Garland. Then, as the sixty miles country reaching up to Del Norte is almost as level as a floor, its extension to that point is poked for with as much certainty as that it will be carried southward by this, its natural route. toward the land of the Montezumas .- Aller Ego, in the Acros.

Who say there is no diversion at Maniton?

General I arrison Allen, so well and favorably known to our citizens, returned to Harrisburg a day or two ago, to spend some time among the friends he made here during his terms of service as Auditor-General of Penn sylvania. If the General had been in doubt, before his arrival here, as to the estimation in which he is held by those pC de among whom he has passed the greater port on of the last decade, surely the cordial reception which greeted . nim, and the hearty grasps of the hand which he received wherever he showed his familiar face, should leave him no longer in doubt on that score. And these demonstrations of es-teem did not end there. Last evening a large number of his friends, with the Excelsior cornet hand at their head, marched to the Lochiel Hotel, where he is staying, and tendered the General the compliment of a perenade. The strains of missic has scarcely died away are the General a speared on the portico, and ofter returning Mutuals, than is to his friends or their expressions of Pike, I kindly feeling and regard toward him, shook the hands of those nearest him, and insited the numbers who were unable to ap woach him on the outside to enter the hotel, where he would be pleased to see them. demagogues and tricksters The originators of these stock companies, in nearly every instance, were not capitalists, but financiers of little experience, mere adventurers who, he means of a plausible form or organiza-tion under charters, purchased from the Legis. ature, undertook to manage other people's money for them, living in the meantime in his-ury and case on handsome salaries, squeezed out of the supposed profits of their enterprise.

nothing more nor less than republicanism, de- G L Demary Sout Mi c S W Illiams and wife 31 ou basin and completest form. It can be applied to the government of nations or to the management of the interests of small gatherings of mea, with equal effect. Pure republication admits of no class rule, no intermed rates befween power and the people. Rulers are chosen by these who are to be governed. The laws under which they live are mide by those who mutually agree to obey them, The expenses of government are light, because every man agrees to help tovernment by confributing his share of taxat on. in proportion to his share of the wealth of the nation, and each one receives in return his AN Clarke equitable share of the guin, profit, or advantage in proportion to the effort put forth by him. In short, republicans in the "mutual system" of government, or a government of "sel-help," as listinguished from monarchical or class govern ment, and wherever it falls short of perfection a is the result of popular ignorance, vice, and indifference.

Certain forms of corporations are little mondreines, within the cire of their powers and privileges. A saving fund, linving more than one class of memberships or interests, is one of these. There is a class of stockholders; these are er 10.2 a wooden ek ing it in't 'english i from Alma, where he has been at work during are the tristocracy. They choose a king and their brok lock of Hugt en Street, opposite the Summer heall them directors. The rule of this class is supreme. The depositors are the common people, and have no chaice in selecting rulers in the management of alta re or in the disposal or investment of their property; they are not even represented in the directory-in the corporate parliament, let us say. They are not even fa-vered with a report of the financial oversions, or the condition and standing of their monarchical institution.

Exactly the reverse of all this is the co-ope Mestry J. R. Bown and O. B. Green, of the aquial controlled by and for those who owe the aquial employed. How well the periode by the particle who teceived the corresponding the five managed their own interests is shown in the successful operations of over forty years of continued and unremitting effort. When, however, in occasional failure has occurred, it has resulted from the imperfect laws under which the mutual system has existed and igainst ing of the proper application of the time princi-ples of co-operation it has always had to contend, against these adverse influences it is struggling to day with the same quiet energy, the same persistent determination that has char accerred a from the beginning. Let us hope that at no very distant day the laws intended for its protection and encouragement will be so-
